

Highlights

- Safety-critical events are associated with the risk of crashes and injuries.
- The positive association held when stratified by business unit and driver type.
- We analyzed over 1.4 billion pings from 31,828 commercial truck drivers.
- Rolling stability has the highest correlation with crashes.
- Our analytic methods and R code are available to promote future research.